

How the relation of right to privacy of public official and public awareness

Mohammad JALALI

Maedeh TASKHIRI

Abstract

The issue of violating of right to privacy of individuals is not new subject. We have seen playing videos and photos or private conversations and have heard in this case. But what has attracted attention in recent years and it was also controversial is spreading the news of their personal lives, which sometimes has been a head of state and because of this issue have gone to the brink of dismissal. On the one hand, the requirements of contemporary era and also Medias in the pursuit of knowledge for managing the society and control of issues required that the people proposed the new idea as the right to know. On the other hand, despite the bad attitude to some kind of issues, threatening of violating of right to privacy and personal space was proposed. The companion of right to privacy and people awareness about public official causes, we propose the theory of legal limitation and judicial precedents based on the idea of balance as low objectionable idea.

Keywords: privacy, public official, people's right to know, Medias.